

ST SAM (Song To Save A Marriage)

One hand is sinking heavy
The other wants to swim
Into deeper water
Come on baby
Please jump in

Descend beneath this wave with me
If not I may let go
Weather changes might release
This fear of undertow

I'm always living between the gesture and the dream
I'm almost dying
So I'm tearing at the seams

No tidal change to threaten us
It's backwards, but that makes me sad
I'm afraid you'll always keep me
In front of what makes you mad

A little doubt never killed me
A little safety may Danger can thrill me
I might like it that way

I'm always living between
The gesture and the dream
Coming sounds like crying,
And leaving (sounds like) laughing

Feed me
Wash me
Say a prayer
Before you hold me close again

Or close the door,
And say Good Night
You can't always be my friend
I can't always be your friend
I could always just be your friend Could I always just be...?

With needs as deep as chemistry
Expectations just as plain
I'm holding back, I'm holding back
But I'm bursting through again

I'm always living between
This Gesture and This Dream
I'm almost breathing
Or is it laughing?

Copyright Rachel Cyrene Blackman Publisher Stella Rose Music